Tomorrow At Hahn's 3 Stores.

No less than one-third and in many instances one-half will be the saving held out to shoe buyers at our three stores tomorrow, making the Friday offering of odd lots, broken sizes and ends of lines of greater importance than it has ever been. The busy selling of the second week of the Silver Anniversary Sale has depleted many large lots of perfectly seasonable and fashionable footwear for women, men and children, and it is these which we offer tomorrow at such an extreme re-

"The Busy Corner. ALWAYS THE BEST OF EVERYTHING FOR THE LEAST

It's No Telling When This Greatest of All Sales Will End.

The fourth day has proven that the spirited buying which still goes on with as much vim and dash will last for days to come. Every department which was once the property of SAKS & CO. has many well-developed bargains which mature as the sale progresses. Never in the history of mercantile chances have such stocks been offered for so little money. We bought to sell and not to keep, and the only way out of this is to give the biggest kind of values for as little money as honest merchandise can be sold for. Plain facts and figures have given fiction a wide berth. Our well-known reputation for selling the best of everything for the least money demands of us to stick close to this slogan. SAKS & CO.'S stocks must go. Our own reputable goods must follow in line. This offering is the greatest money-saving opportunity ever known to the shopping public in years. It doesn't require the least judgment or to understand one iota about goods when you come to attend this great selling-out sale. Every department has its roster of good things to offer. Everything is marked in plain figures. Everything has been reduced so much in price that it will readily meet the demands of these who wish their hard-earned dollars to act as wage earners without any strain or effort. In order to further the interest of our patrons and to make their shopping easy we again publish our department guide, which everyone should take interest in. Read carefully where each and every department has been located, and if you do this you will have no trouble to shop with ease and satisfaction.

THE WORLD OF SOCIETY AFFAIRS IN ALEXANDRIA

CASE OF THE MAYOR AGGAINST

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

Judge Nicol-Police Court

Evening Star Bureau, No. 701 King Street, Bell Telephone No. 106,

ALEXANDRIA, Va., June 13, 1901. Arguments in the case of Mayor Simpson against the board of police commissioners upon a suit for an injunction to restrain the commissioners from putting into execution sections 56 and 59 of the police rules, will be heard before Judge Charles E. Nicol of the circuit court, in vacation, at Manassas Monday next. The issue involved is the right of the mayor to detail policemen for duty at the station house. This is contested by the commissioners, who have passed regulations requiring a bi-monthly change of the station keepers. Mayor Simpson holds that as chief executive of the city, empowered by statute to govern the police force for the enforcement of law and order, he has the right to name such men as he may see fit for duty at police headquarters. It is said that heretofore the privilege of the mayors of this city in such matters has not been questioned. The contention has been the subject of litigation for some time. Through his at-torney, Mr. John M. Johnson, Mayor Simpson secured a temporary injunction about two months ago. The attorneys for the commissioners, Messrs, Francis L. Smith and Samuel G. Brent, demurred on the ground that the action was directed against the individual members of the board instead of the board as a body. This point was sustained and a new injunction granted on a bill making the board of po-lice commissioners the defendant. It is said that the commissioners will allege in-competence on the part of the station keepers, but the opposing counsel expects to prove that Station Keepers Ferguson and Sherwood have discharged their duties in-telligently and accurately during their long term of service.

Several miner cases were disposed of l-y Mayor Simpson in the police court this morning. Joseph Fry and William Lee, the latter colored, were before the court en the charge of being suspicious characters. Fry said he came from Charlestown, W. Va., and the negro claimed to hall from Cincinnati. Prior to their arrest by Officer Smith the men were endeavoring to sell several articles of clothing. The men stated that the clothes were gotten in Gor-donsville. They said they had been traveling with each other from that place. There seemed to be no criminating evidence, and the mayor dismissed the mer Joseph Buckner, colored, and Arthur Robinson, small lads, were charged with swim-ming naked in the dock. They were assessed $2.50 each. Mary J. Jenkins, colored, charged with disorderly conduct and
